Subject: Conspiracy of 9 State's Attorney General Against Microsoft

In my opinion, the 9 AG's attempts to coerce Microsoft, extort money, and inhibit their ability to pursue business in an unfettered fashion, while using the guise of "protecting the consumer" is pure bunk! Other than Microsoft's competitors, to my knowledge, there has been no hue and cry from consumers claiming they were taken advantage of by MS. In fact, it's just the opposite. MS has contributed far more to our progress in software development, the economy and numerous other ways than all of the AG's put together could dream of.

Perhaps you should look into the political aspirations of these 9 AG's as the true reason this case is still alive.

This is a frivolous pursuit and should be duly deposited in file #13.

One man's opinion.
